

Transparency Initiative Coordinating Committee (TICC)
September 2015

This has been a busy month for our committee, with more than a dozen applications being processed. Ten new Charter Members were admitted to the Transparency Initiative, including the following organizations:

- Center for Survey and Data Sciences at American Institutes for Research
- Survey Research Laboratory at the University of South Carolina
- Research Services at the Presbyterian Church
- University of New Hampshire Survey Center
- PolicyInteractive
- Friedman Foundation for Educational Choice
- Mathematica Policy Research
- Public Agenda
- Ipsos Public Affairs U.S.
- Decision Information Resources, Inc.

An important milestone was reached this month with the admission of PolicyInteractive, which extended the Transparency Initiative's reach to 25 of the 50 U.S. states, in addition to the District of Columbia and Mexico.
