

Transparency Initiative Coordinating Committee (TICC)

December 2014

As we close out 2014 Transparency Initiative activities, we are pleased to report that two organizations, Quinnipiac University and the University of Nebraska Bureau of Sociological Research, were admitted to the TI during December, and another 11 organizations submitted complete applications, which the TICC is currently processing. The TICC held two conference calls during December, on the 2nd and the 17th to address some minor policy issues that have been raised as part of recent application reviews. In addition, TICC member Tim Triplet made a presentation regarding the TI at the annual Federal Committee on Statistical Methodology (FCSM) Conference, which was well attended. We are looking forward to a busy January, as more applications are expected in addition to those we are currently reviewing.
